

Investigation Summary Report

St. John Theater Reserve, LA

HISTORY

Investigators: Martin DeLatte/Jennifer Broussard, Annie Broumaneh, Eddie Fagot, and Nathan Steckel.

Others Present: Denise Borell, and 3 others

CLAIMS

Reports of children laughing on balcony, children seen by numerous people inside and outside of the building, locked and unlocked doors opening, footsteps have been heard on stage

EQUIPMENT

Digital voice Recorders, Infrared Video, Mini-DV with night shot, Digital Still cameras, Digital Voice Recorders, K-II meters, Infrared Non-contact Thermometers, ambient temperature thermometer

EMF Readings: Throughout the night numerous EMF readings were recorded on the balcony and on the stage. mG readings fluctuated consistently up to levels around 2.5.

Note: Electrical wires were noted underneath the stage possibly causing some interference.

PERSONAL EXPERIENCES

Martin saw an anomaly behind the stage from the dressing room; at the same time Annie heard footsteps coming from the stage area. Investigators Annie and Eddie heard a child's laugh in the projection room. Annie, Eddie, and Jenn heard a child's voice asking for help from the balcony. Evidence: Audio of the child's laugh was captured on Eddie's voice recorder.

In Conclusion:

1. EMF readings may have been a result of the electrical wires.
2. A future investigation is recommended to compare results to better understand what was documented.
