

Investigation Summary Report

Private Residence New Roads, LA

HISTORY

In our respect to privacy, we will keep the location of this residence private, as per request to the homeowner. No outside shots that could disclose the residence's location will be shown either.

The residence is one of the oldest homes in the area yet is still not only magnificently constructed, yet beautifully decorated. Being such a beautiful home, it served as a primary wake home in that area, conducting many funerals for the public. The home also once belonged to a relative of the current homeowner. This occupant deceased in the home, only to be found several weeks later.

The current homeowner claimed to constantly hear voices, primarily in the early morning hours. Reports from the owners young child, stated she would see an "old man" sitting on the bed in her room. Could this be deceased family member or one of the many "visitors" placed out for public viewing while their wake was taking place. We hoped to find out!!

We arrived at the beautiful home and were warmly greeted by the extremely nice and hospitable homeowner. We show great thanks in her kindness in allowing us access to her home. We did a brief walk-through of the residence and quickly set up our equipment, enabling us to go "lights out".

In one room, I decided to set up a "control experiment", so to speak. I placed a hat, once belonging to the deceased family member on the child's bed, which is where she claimed to have seen a male entity. Immediately after going "lights out", I made my way to this room to take EMF readings. Almost immediately, I received a short, yet strong, reading when hovering over the hat. It happened so quick, I was unable to get it on camera and it did not happen again that night.

The rest of the night consisted of taking audio samples and tons of photos. No substantial evidence, other than several possible orb-like objects caught in photos were found. The last of all the evidence is being analyzed and gathered for a formal presentation to the homeowner and we will post any future findings as we see appropriate. Again, we thank the gracious homeowner for allowing us to investigate and we would love to make a second visit!
